About the National Development Agency

The National Development Agency (NDA) is an agency of government tasked with the mandate to contribute towards the eradication of poverty and its causes in South Africa.

OUR MANDATE

Our primary mandate is to contribute towards the eradication of poverty and its causes by granting funds to civil society organisations (CSOs) to:

- Implement development projects in poor communities.
- Strengthen the institutional capacity of CSOs that provide services to impoverished communities.

The secondary mandate is to:

- Promoting consultation, dialogue and the sharing of development experience between CSOs and the relevant organs of state.
- Promoting debates on national development policy.
- Undertaking research and publication aimed at providing the basis for development policy.

Foreword by NDA Board Chairperson

Ms Nozabelo Ruth Bhengu

"The Bill of Rights is a cornerstone of democracy in South Africa. It enshrines the rights of all people in our country and affirms the democratic values of human dignity, equality and freedom. (2) The state must respect, protect, promote and fulfil the rights in the Bills of Rights."

The South African Constitution is one of the most advanced Constitutions in the world, however, since the dawn of democracy, the country has been struggling to redress the imbalances of the past, given that now government must provide and treat all citizens equally. The tragedy of our past still haunts us in the form of the majority of South Africans that still suffer economically due to the previous education system that was focusing on churning out employees and not entrepreneurs.

It is in this light that the National Development Agency, an agency of government that reports to Parliament through the Department of Social Development, has been tasked with the mandate to contribute towards the eradication of poverty by working with the civil society organisation to empower marginalised communities. Poverty continues to be perpetuated due to the lack of access to gainful economic activities at all levels of the economically active population groups in South Africa. Those mostly affected are particularly black women, youth, and those living with disabilities located in the former homelands, townships and informal settlements. We need to make a quantum leap from this state of insufficiency if we are to thrive as a nation.

It is with elation that I report ways of empowering our communities are being investigated as a means of ensuring sustainability and a legacy that will benefit these disadvantaged communities through the cooperatives vehicle which will empower participants economically as well. I therefore call upon all of government, the private sector and the CSO sector to partner with us in empowering local communities. Empowered communities are self-sufficient and are familiar with their Constitutional rights. They strive to improve their living conditions and to ensure a brighter future for themselves and their dependants. When this happens, we can all be rest assured that we have done our part in improving the living conditions of our people.

Let us take bold steps and address the poverty in our country, once and for all!

Overview by NDA CEO

Ms Reekeletseng Hlapolosa
Acting Chief Executive Officer

“Help us get closer to achieving our vision of “developing a society free from poverty”

It is my pleasure to present to you this booklet containing a selection of projects that we fund in your province. The National Development Agency (NDA) is tasked with a challenging mandate of contributing towards the eradication of poverty, moreover, during an economically depressed era. It is only in improving the lives of marginalised communities and assisting them to contribute to the economy, even if it is at micro level to begin with, enabling us to move forward as a nation.

The NDA is a state poverty eradication institution tasked with the mandate to effectively respond to people who are severely affected by poverty, due to the lack of access and the means to generating a sustainable income through self-help projects. These are the people who access relief through the social security programmes implemented by government. It is also a fact that without the robust social security programmes put in place by the South African government, the state of poverty and inequalities would be in a far more critical condition.

The role of the NDA, within the Department of Social Development is to provide developmental programmes and projects that will support and provide a variety of interventions to move the South African Social Security Agency (SASSA) beneficiaries to, self-help developmental interventions that will lead to gainful economic activities, income to those disadvantaged individuals and families and the eradication of poverty. Working towards a common goal between all the functionaries within the Department of Social Development, known as the Social Development Portfolio, these entities formulated a strategic approach to respond effectively in eradicating poverty. As such, working towards a common goal ensures effectively designed developmental interventions and programmes that are impactful towards poverty.

The NDA will accelerate the District Development Model (DDM) approach which has demonstrated to be a useful framework to organise, develop, plan and deliver impactful developmental interventions to move poor people out of poverty in a coordinated way. This model provides better coordination and integration framework for all spheres of government, the private sector and civil society will focus their investments to one outcome – the eradication of poverty, resulting in the positive impact on poverty eradication developmental efforts.

Only a multi-dimensional approach, with specific defined target groups and defined spatial perspective can provide pathways for moving affected communities from poverty to sustainable productive livelihoods through interventions led by communities themselves, organised as cooperatives, non-profit organisations and other structures.

I invite all those who want to contribute towards sustainable poverty eradication efforts to be in touch with us so that we can work together to turn poverty around and help our people live dignified lives.

Ms Reekeletseng Hlapolosa
Acting Chief Executive Officer

Partnership call to action

Mr Xolile Brukwe
Senior Manager:
Stakeholder Relations

The principal function of the National Development Agency's (NDA) partnership model is to ensure the sustainability of funded development programmes and interventions through establishing and maintaining strategic partnerships with other private, government and donor organisations. The National Development Agency (NDA) was established with the sole mandate to contribute towards the country's efforts of eradicating poverty and its causes, which is intrinsically part of the triple challenges the country is confronted with namely: poverty, inequality and unemployment. Albeit the limited resources and the struggle to link the yields to markets or value chain constraints, the NDA has over the years worked with civil society organisations (CSOs) on poverty eradication efforts and its causes.

The NDA's new strategic focus aims to address the historic challenges by fine-tuning a focus that aims towards more legitimacy, credibility, social capital and control over funded interventions and programmes – including the closer monitoring of outcomes and the deliberate impact measurement of projects. Secondly, there is a need to upscale the existing funded projects to reach full stability and sustainability potential through aggressive resource mobilisation efforts amongst other various stakeholders in the development space delivering and responding to real community needs that are in alignment with the District Development Model framework.

Partnerships amongst business sector and non-governmental organisations or CSOs are common across the world in the form of corporate social responsibility initiatives and undertakings. This cross-sector collaboration pools resources, competencies and knowledge together for achieving greater impact in joint projects. It is against this backdrop that the NDA's partnership model considers partnership best suited to derive maximum benefit in depressed communities using CSOs as its vehicle. Effective collaborations and partnerships consider service delivery imperatives, cost effectiveness, social cohesion and nation building as well as the need to respond to demands of a constantly changing society that must deal with the effects of poverty, unemployment and inequalities.

NDA poverty eradication interventions are aligned with the recognition that people living in economic isolation have skills, wisdom, assets, capacities and productive entrepreneurial energy. The missing link is their need to access and transmit this potential into viable economic activity that uplifts communities through the creation of jobs and sustainable livelihoods.

The NDA calls on private, public and donor organisations who share in this philosophy, that collaborating with communities for their own development, which must be bottom-up, organic and people-driven, which is the only sustainable means to free communities of poverty, inequality and unemployment.

We invite you to fill out the pledge card at the end of this publication to engage with us as a partner in development for a better South Africa, for all.

About the Mpumalanga Province

Mpumalanga, the second-smallest province in South Africa after Gauteng, is located in the north-eastern part of the country, bordering Swaziland and Mozambique to the east. It also borders Limpopo, Gauteng, Free State and KwaZulu-Natal within South Africa.

It covers an area of 76 495km² and has a population of 4 335 964, making it the sixth most populous in the country. It is situated mainly on the high plateau grasslands of the Middleveld, which roll eastwards for hundreds of kilometres. In the north-east, it rises towards mountain peaks and terminates in an immense escarpment. In some places, this escarpment plunges hundreds of metres down to the low-lying area known as the Lowveld.

Mbombela (previously Nelspruit) is the capital of the province and the administrative and business centre of the Lowveld. Other major cities and towns include eMalahleni (previously Witbank), Standerton, eMkhondo (previously Piet Retief), Malelane, Ermelo, Barberton and Sabie.

The best-performing sectors in the province include mining, manufacturing and services. Tourism and agro-processing are potential growth sectors. Agriculture in Mpumalanga is characterised by a combination of commercialised farming, subsistence and livestock farming, and emerging crop farming. Crops such as subtropical fruits, nuts, citrus, cotton, tobacco, wheat, vegetables, potatoes, sunflowers and maize are produced in the region.

Mpumalanga is rich in coal reserves and home to South Africa's major coal-fired power stations. eMalahleni is the biggest coal producer in Africa and is also the site of the country's second oil-from-coal plant after Sasolburg. Most of the manufacturing production in Mpumalanga occurs in the southern Highveld region. In the Lowveld sub-region, industries are concentrated around the manufacturing of products from agricultural and raw forestry material.

Mpumalanga is divided into three district municipalities, which are further subdivided into 17 local municipalities.

COO's Message

Mrs Susan Khumalo
NDA Chief
Operations Officer

"We cannot seek achievement for ourselves and forget about progress and prosperity for our community. Our ambitions must be broad enough to include the aspirations and needs of others, for their sakes and for our own", Cesar Chavez, Civil Rights Activist

The reality of our time is that many of our fellow country men and women live in poverty due to socio-economic conditions, not only in our country, but due to what is happening around the world. It is only through collectively addressing the issue of poverty, as government, state owned entities, private sector and the civil society sector, that we can address many ills that plague our respective communities.

We are called upon to be that generation that brings meaningful changes in the lives of marginalised societies. The truth is that, as the NDA, our programmes and projects can go far if all role players come together, through the District Development Model, to address socio-economic issues that keep our communities stuck in the circle of poverty.

The NDA has a wealth of experience in community development that transcends the different aspects ranging from strengthening the institutional capacity of CSOs, that implement development programmes and projects in poor communities, to assisting community-based organisations that provide community empowerment services or producing products that are traded in the community and beyond.

Programme 2, which I head, is the engine room of the NDA's primary mandate of contributing towards the eradication of poverty. It is in Programme 2 that the NDA is represented in all the nine provinces across the country. Our provincial offices, inclusive of district offices where we have a footprint, are ready to work with partners and stakeholders that are committed to make a meaningful change in South Africa.

In the past, in executing our mandate, we used the CSOs Development Model, as approved in the 2016/17 financial year and which clearly provided a complete package of interventions to ensure members of the CSOs and their beneficiaries are: selected based on assessed needs and level of needs; provided with a combination of interventions pipeline for registration if not registered, capacity building, grant funding and linkages to markets and possible funders. This is to increase their own resources; and assist in attaining sustainability levels for the management of the CSO and the financial resources to support their programmes.

This approach was found to be inadequate to achieve the expectations of the NDA mandate, demonstrated by increased levels of poverty and unemployment. In 2021/22, the NDA had to initiate a process of turnaround and come up with a strategy that will effectively respond to the mandate of contributing towards poverty eradication. The new model is premised on targeting beneficiaries within indigent households which would be empowered to participate in community economic development initiatives through the District Development Model.

Our rich knowledge of community development puts us at the forefront of being catalysts and key players when it comes to understanding projects and programmes that could make sustainable impact in the lives of people that both the public and private sector may want to invest in. The NDA works hand-in-hand, using the public and private partnerships, through its provincial offices and the civil society sector, to support community economic development initiatives whose main target is indigent households' members who have to be graduated out of poverty.

The NDA, over the years, has learned that development requires concerted efforts from all interested parties ranging from communities themselves, government, civil society, to the private sector. Communities have all the required assets that can form the foundation for investment and support to create community led development and sustainability.

The skills development programme, also in partnerships with the SETAs, private institutions and established CSOs, is aimed at strengthening emerging CSOs to ensure that they are able to produce quality services and products which will meet international standards that enable them to compete in the mainstream economy.

Mrs Susan Khumalo
NDA Chief Operations Officer

Provincial response to Poverty Eradication

Mr Maxwell Mathebula
NDA Mpumalanga
Provincial Manager

In the past three years, the NDA provided financial and non-financial support to civil society organizations (CSOs) across the province in areas of income generation, capacity building and education.

In the economic development sectors like mining, agriculture, education and tourism, the NDA in the province supported youth-led and women-led organisations to enable them to participate in their local economies, especially in food nutrition, through input products for farming activities, capacity building and infrastructure development. Some of the organisations supported are in the textile and agricultural sectors. Various partners have joined hands with the NDA to ensure that these organisations are not only thriving but are sustainable.

One of the NDA funded income generation bright sparks is the Ikhwezi Farming Cooperative located in Skhwahlane Village, Nkomazi Local Municipality. The cooperative members have shown resilience throughout the years of the NDA multi-funding since 2015. They passed through phases of hardships that emanated from natural disasters like COVID-19 and acts natural disasters, like floods that decimated their crops at a point when they were breaking even.

To this end, they remained resolute and focused on their goal of community upliftment and job creation. To boost and recover from the above mentioned disasters, they went to look for other business opportunities in addition to what they were already producing. This is where over 40 people were employed in the new venture of providing the sugarcane to RCL, a sugar processing company in Malelane. They have a contract to plant sugarcane on 20 hectares of their farm, of which the remaining 33 hectares will be used for cash crops. The NDA grant-funded the organization with an additional R300 000.00 which was used to fund this expansion and obtain this community resolution.

The province has also contributed immensely in the Early Childhood Development (ECD) sector through the provision of infrastructure to allow for conducive learning, provision of the learner support material (to support the cognitive development of thousands of children) and capacitating the ECD board members and forums to ensure proper governance in the sector.

In partnership with the Department of Social development and other partners like SanPARKS, DSD (National and Provincial) the province has supported lobbying and advocacy NPOs that deal with the scourge of Gender Based Violence and those that address the social ills in disadvantaged communities.

The NDA's capacity building interventions benefitted 100 CSOs and over 1000 direct beneficiaries across the province during the 2022/23 financial year.

We pride ourselves with the partners whom we collaborate with to achieve the mammoth task of eradicating poverty. We call on all the other stakeholders who are working in the development sector to join us to take the Mpumalanga province forward.

Intandekho Agricultural Primary Cooperative

Name of the CSO: Intandekho Agricultural Primary Cooperative

Registration number: 2019/002048/24

Project type: Income Generation - Agriculture

Location: Gert Sibande, Mkhondo Local Municipality, Ward 19

Contact Amsterdam - Nature Khumalo, 076 073 0614/
intadekhoagri@webmail.com

NDA grant funding amount: R265 318.04

Grant funding deliverables: Crop Production

Number of jobs created: 10

Population sector: Youth

Background

The six (6) member, youth-led cooperative, was established in 2010. "We knew that riches are in the soil, even though like many youth we did not want to farm. We had to do something to participate in the economy and also create employment while we are ensuring that our communities have enough food", says the Director of the cooperative Mr Nature Khumalo. Amsterdam and the surrounding areas have vast land that is conducive for farming however, young people are still unemployed due to a lack of interest in agriculture.

Although Intandeko started in 2010, it was only registered in 2019. This cooperative farms on 10 hectares of land that is provided by the tribal authority. Producing maize, beans and other crops. In their last harvest, they managed to produce 100 tons of butternuts, 8 000 heads of pumpkin and 300 crates of tomatoes.

Mr Khumalo said, "we have been fortunate that all members are committed to work. We are now looking at the sustainability of our business and diversify the means of production through agro-production, processing, packaging and distribution". Their zeal has ensured that they receive support from other governmental departments, including the National Youth Development Agency.

NDA Intervention

The NDA grant went towards ensuring that the organisation is sustainable by bringing technology in how they work. They installed an electrical pump power driven motor, connected a water pump to the Jojo-tanks, constructed a pack house with an ablution facility and installed the cold room at pack house.

Other partners

National Youth Development Agency, Department of Agriculture, Rural Development and Land Affairs and SEDA.

chrisants26@yahoo.co.za

NDA grant funding amount: R 95 100.00

Grant funding deliverables: Confectionaries

Number of jobs created: 5 Jobs

Population sector: Youth

Background

Mattafin Village is like any other village and informal settlement in South Africa as it is characterised by youth unemployment, teenage pregnancies, substance abuse and the lack of recreation centres. Although the village is located on the outskirts of Nelspruit, poverty is prevalent.

The Mattafin Sports Trust is an NPO that is working with the youth in the community to give them hope through sports. They identify programmes that young people need in the community and mobilise partners to support the identified programmes.

Isinkwa Bakery is one of the programmes that was identified by the NPO in 2019. Five young people who are between the ages of 21 and 25 formed a cooperative in 2020.

The cooperative received training from Supreme Bakery who also gave them the starter equipment and input material. It specialises in bread and confectionary production and sells bread to the local Spaza shops and the community. The business has done so well, that its now operating as a full bakery with the required machinery.

They have started to diversify, producing from only bread to scones and fat cakes. The plan is to get to other high-end products like cakes and they also need to increase production of the current products since they are not meeting the demand.

NDA intervention

The NDA grant is going towards buying all the required material inputs for 12 months. This will assist the organisation to increase the production and to save the profits to ensure sustainability of the business. Other partners have been coming on board since the NDA's intervention.

Immediate needs

A community centre where they will open another shop will ensure that the cooperative is able to diversify its products, increase employment opportunities for the youth and support other programmes that address the social needs of the community, like after care and feeding programmes.

Other partners

SEDA is training cooperative members on food handling to ensure that they are compliant with the Food Health and Safety Standard. They are also taking care of the branding needs. Motswako and Mbombela Stadium bought additional machinery.

NDA grant funding amount: R 278 894.55

Number of jobs created: 8 Full time staff and 13 volunteers

Population sector: Persons with disabilities

Background

The NPO was established in 2003 to look after the blind in the community but, members soon realised that the rights of people with other disabilities are also not catered for, hence they decided to include the whole disability sector in their programmes. The initial plan was also to look at the Local municipality, however, they are now servicing the District of Nkangala.

They assist families to apply for houses through the People Houses Process (PHP) in Mpumalanga Province, and provide services such as the repairing of manual wheelchairs, assembling of crutches, referrals to SASSA for disability grants, care dependency grants and grants in aid, as well as referrals to the Department of Home Affairs for identity documents and orientation and mobility training.

Ms Nomvula Maseko, the NPO Chairperson, said, “We are trying to ensure that the human rights of persons with disability are upheld by the communities, government and in families. The biggest challenge facing the organisation is lack of understanding of various disabilities by family members. This is due to the lack of education and information sharing in families. Our clients are still mistreated in their own homes. One of the key programmers that we are intensifying is the creation of awareness in our communities and provision of continuous training for families”.

Sedi Swiswing works with other home-based care organisations who assist in the identification of families in need and to monitor the progress of their work.

The NDA intervention

In 2020, the NDA grant-funded the NPO with R 278 894. 55. The grant went towards conducting awareness campaigns, providing 90 quality wheelchairs, assembling 60 crutches and providing counselling to families of people with disabilities. The NDA also provided capacity building to the 8 members of the NPOs.

Immediate Needs

Ms Maseko says that fixing wheelchairs and crutches is a priority, but they are unable to effectively service all due to the lack of funding. They provide this service for free. They also need an electric generator, welding machine, cleaning materials, groceries, a toolbox, transport, auditors' funds and stipends for volunteers. They are appealing for assistance. She also appealed for assistance to ensure that awareness programmes are increased.

NDA grant funding amount: R144 000.00

Grant funding deliverables: Crop Production

Number of jobs created: 5 jobs

Population sector: Youth & Woman

Background

This is a family cooperative with generational knowledge handed down by the father of the members, who is a local subsistence farmer.

They are farming on 10 hectares of communal land but they are only using 5 hectares. The Department of Agriculture has provided the borehole and a water tank.

Mobile Agri Skills Development and Training (MASDT), an agricultural company that assist small-scale farmers in Mpumalanga, gave them technical training in planting and the use of chemicals. They are doing well; however, they could do better if they get proper irrigation systems.

They produce a variety of crops such as butternut, cabbage and tomatoes which are sold to the local shops and the community.

NDA Intervention

The NDA grant went towards the installation of the 20kl reservoir (damask) and procuring the required chemical sprays. The cooperative has the potential to be successful, they need proper mentorship and modern equipment to increase their production. The damask provided will assist as they don't have to wait to pump the water from the nearby river to irrigate.

Immediate needs

A tunnel or green house is needed to avoid the harsh weather. This will enable them to plant throughout the year.

NDA grant funding amount: R 272 834.02

Grant funding deliverables: Construction of Classrooms

Number of jobs created: 8

Population sector: Children

Background

The ECD was established in 2011, the centre is in a highly impoverished rural area of Bushbuckridge near the Mozambiquan border. The rate of unemployment is so high, that most parents are domestic workers, or they rely on social grants.

The NDA's intervention raised parental awareness of the significance of ECD. From 2020 to date, the number of children who have been registering has increased. The NDA funding enabled nearby businesses such as Lusaba Pride and Purpose Lodge to build two more classrooms on the school premises. Mrs Maluka started a small food garden and hopes to grow it, but one of the challenges she is facing is a lack of water, which prevents her from watering the food garden. The ECD Centre is one of two in the area that sends their preschool learners to Magudu Primary School.

NDA Intervention

The NDA grant-funded the community with an ECD structure. The structure consists of three (3) classrooms, one (1) office and one (1) storeroom facility. The new structure currently accommodates 76 children. A total of 4 ECD practitioners, 2 of them trained up to NQF level 4 and do ECD training work at the centre. In addition, there is one (1) security personnel, one (1) cook, one (1) cleaner as well as the centre manager, making it a total of 8 people working at the centre.

Immediate needs

Ablution facilities for children and staff, a kitchen, outdoor play equipment, indoor learning equipment (such as tables, chairs, fantasy play area, charts, labels, creative area, interlocking rubber mats, etc), seedlings and Jojo-tanks.

NDA grant funding amount: R 300 000.00

Population sector: Women and Children

Background

The Greater Rape Intervention Programme (GRIP) is a registered NGO founded in 2000 with special focus on sexual abuse and domestic violence. Over the years, GRIP has developed a system of operation which has been used by the National Prosecuting Authority as their blueprint for the Thuthuzela Care Centres, where a case can be tracked from the police stations, through the hospitals to the courts.

NDA intervention

During the NDA funding period, the organisation increased its operations in the hospital care rooms and in assisting the victims who needed court services. The illustration shows GRIP's interventions in the Bushbuckridge and Thaba Chweu hospitals care rooms.

Beneficiaries

Across all hospitals, the predominant service demand is from the 10 to 24 year old age group.

For the CARA programme, 76 awareness campaigns were held reaching 1074 beneficiaries.

Apart from communities that benefit from GRIP's activities, the organisation has 24 employees who are qualified first responders and two friends of the court.

INTEREST TO PARTNER PLEDGE

The Need for All Hands on Deck

The NDA's efforts are aimed at the eradication of poverty and all its causes. To achieve this vision, the NDA alone will not be able to achieve its mission of breaking the cycle of poverty. It needs all the instruments of the state, private sector and civil society working in coordinated and integrated posture to focus on those classified as poor, who reside in the fringes of developed and affluent locations of the country.

Making a dent in the war against poverty requires investments from every sector to enable the poor to fully and actively participate in creating a future they want, the quality of life they aspire to have and the South Africa they want to live in. Therefore, South Africa needs all hands on deck to achieve the vision and the expectation of citizens living in a country where hunger, poverty and hopelessness are not an everyday struggle.
